Amy Knapp's Big Grid Family Organizer 2011 Calenda

"The challenge of life, I have found, is to build a resume that doesn't simply tell a story about what you want to be, but it's a story about who you want to be." -Oprah Winfrey Teenage pregnancy, drug-addicted parent, absentee parent, neglect and abandonment, bullying, promiscuity and emotional abuse is just the tip of the iceberg in this author's story. From birth, her journey has been a fight just to be heard, to be seen, to be accepted. But it doesn't end there. UNCover Girl mirrors the author's strength, struggles, and healing. She combines her scintillating brand of hard-hitting and insightful motivations to connect with readers at an intimate and individual level, which leads to a deep focus towards finding their purpose and passion as she did. Life has a way of dealing out stuff that doesn't feel good nor looks pretty! So, as women especially, we put on this makeup to cover up the impactions of life. Uncovering the makeup allows us to be true to who we are and who we were created to be. Now THAT is what makes you a true unCOVER GIRL! #uncover #uncovergirl

Breathe, Mama, Breathe

It all started when I first saw my children's faces. You moms remember that magical moment when your child was born? You saw the most beautiful face and you thought "Oh yes, this is exactly what my darling child is supposed to look like." It was at those precise moments that I fell in love with my two children and have been ever since. This love was the driving force pushing me to raise successful and peaceful children. By applying old fashioned guidelines ranging from Chip and Stall, manners, and most importantly expectations, you can positively win. Your children can benefit from your parenting and be true to themselves and their family.

everywhere and anywhere Mom does. And now this planner runs a full 16 months, beginning boldly when school starts in September 2008, and ending gracefully on New Year's Eve 2009. On the lefthand side of each spread is an emissary from the Boynton menagerie to brighten your week (a cat, a rhino, a penguin, the obligatory cow). On the righthand side, there's a week-at-a-glance grid with two generously-sized write-in columns, one for Mom's schedule, one for the family's comings and goings. Section 2 of the desk planner features space for important phone numbers from doctors to school contacts to restaurants. Then there are tear-out grocery and to-do lists, and some extra pages for scribbling down important and/or inconsequential things. And stickers! Put them on special dates, or perhaps use them to lavishly decorate your tax return. After all, Moms need to have fun too."

Stay at Home Mom Survival Kit

This story of two girls trying to banish a witch is “ full of wonderful fun, excitement, and humor ” (Library Journal). Old Witch likes nothing better than to fly around on her broomstick, crying “ Heh-heh! ” and casting abracadabras. But now she has been sent away . . . by two young girls. Amy and Clarissa have decided that Old Witch is just too mean and wicked. So, drawing a rickety old house upon a barren glass hill, they exile Old Witch there with a warning: She better be good, or else no Halloween! But to give Old Witch some company, they draw her a Little Witch Girl and a Weeny Witch Baby . . . Old Witch tries to be good, but anyone would get up to no good in a place as lonely as the glass hill. And Amy and Clarissa are about to find that out, when Old Witch magics them into her world of make-believe-made-real, in “ a very special book that is certain to give boundless pleasure—at any time of the year ” (The Horn Book). “ A classic for Halloween. ” —Library Journal

"Reid & Williams are "funny as hell."--Amy Morrison, founder of Pregnant Chicken Feeling anxious? Who isn't! Your most irrational (and sometimes rational) fears are hilarious fodder for this sharp and relatable activity book. These days, anxiety is simply part of the human experience. Part journal, part coloring book, part weird coping mechanisms, and part compendium of soothing facts, The Big Activity Book for Anxious People will be an outlet for anyone who wants to take a break from reality, laugh through her fears, and realize with every page that she is not alone--and to help her figure out what to do when it's 3AM and she's wide awake worrying about whether she cc'ed the right "Bob" on that email. (Probably.) Activities include: * Fun Facts about Aging! * Public Speaking: A Diagram * Your Hotel Room Carpet: A Petri Dish of Horrors * Obscure Diseases You Probably Don't Have * Zen Mantras For The Anxiously Inclined * Soothing Facts about Hand Sanitizer On a bad day, try coloring in the soothing grandma. On a really bad day, find step-by-step instructions on how to build an underground bunker. Reid and Williams want everyone to remember that they're in good company: anxious people are some of the funniest and most interesting and creative humans on the planet. (They know, because they are two of them.)"-- is necessary. This story is important." —Kirkus (starred review) "Heartbreakingly topical." —Publishers Weekly (starred review) "A marvel of verisimilitude." —Booklist (starred review) "A powerful, in-your-face novel." —Horn Book (starred review) Sixteen-year-old Starr Carter moves between two worlds: the poor neighborhood where she lives and the fancy suburban prep school she attends. The uneasy balance between these worlds is shattered when Starr witnesses the fatal shooting of her childhood best friend Khalil at the hands of a police officer. Khalil was unarmed. Soon afterward, his death is a national headline. Some are calling him a thug, maybe even a drug dealer and a gangbanger. Protesters are taking to the streets in Khalil ' s name. Some cops and the local drug lord try to intimidate Starr and her family. What everyone wants to know is: what really went down that night? And the only person alive who can answer that is Starr. But what Starr does—or does not—say could upend her community. It could also endanger her life. And don't miss On the Come Up, Angie Thomas's powerful follow-up to The Hate U Give.
